

CAR WASH OPERATORS BREAK FOR MACNEIL'S NEWEST BRUSH: THE RS-500 SONIC WHEEL WASHER

Barrie, Ontario, Canada - June 23, 2005 - MacNeil Wash Systems recently released its newest brush, the RS-500 Sonic Wheel Washer, and is already receiving positive feedback from car wash owners.

With increased consumer spending on alloy rims and high-end wheels, the need for a washer to assist with the cleaning of these areas has never been more important. It takes on brake dust with little to no demand on your workforce, and when coupled with quality chemicals and finished with high-pressure rinsing, the Sonic delivers great cleaning results for wheels and alloy rims. An added bonus is that – in the process – the Sonic cleans the entire lower detail areas from the wheel down, including rocker panels, lower doors and fenders.

A fully automatic system, the RS-500 Sonic Wheel Washer delivers remarkable results, helping eliminate the need for costly prep labor. Many operators are building their new wash with the Sonic, or adding it to their existing site to give them the extra cleaning power that local competition can't provide. In a tough, competitive market, the Sonic is an easily marketable upgrade, and an excellent added profit center.

“The Sonic has added the finishing touch to our wash system,” says Larry Pepler of Mr. P's Wash World. “Not only does it clean most wheels, it is by far the finest piece of equipment manufactured today for cleaning any and all rocker panels. We now have Sonics in all three of our locations and couldn't be more pleased. We have had zero damage claims from the Sonic: That speaks very highly of MacNeil's engineering and product development departments.”

The Sonic is simple to install and maintain in both new and existing tunnels. It features MacNeil Wash Systems' Quiet Drive technology with variable frequency drives (VFD) and a custom load sensing technology to help ensure each vehicle receives the right amount of cleaning pressure. Like MacNeil's complete brush lineup, the Sonic comes standard with a Pro-Coat finish and Envirosoft 2nd Generation foam for quiet, effective, gentle cleaning.
