FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MacNeil Introduces the CleanTouch Echo Chemical Dispensing System

Barrie, ONTARIO (July 14, 2015) - MacNeil Wash Systems, in partnership with Hydra-Flex, Inc., is pleased to introduce the CleanTouch Echo Chemical Dispensing System.

The CleanTouch Echo was developed to deliver consistent and accurate mixed solution, improving chemical performance and vehicle coverage while using less water and chemistry, taking up less space, and requiring less ongoing maintenance than traditional mixing, dosing, and pumping equipment. A compact, single chemical control panel, powered by Hydra-Flex's patented chemical dispensing technology, delivers the precise amount of chemistry to up to 15 applicators in the tunnel, dramatically simplifying the back room. Unique features were added including on-board injector storage, drip tray, and pressurized air and water lines for cleaning.

"We are thrilled to have another partner bringing this technology to the marketplace - a partner that is known for their high quality products and shares our core values of innovation, reliability, and accuracy," said Tim Loughrey, Director of Sales at Hydra-Flex, Inc.

"Our objective is to develop and deliver best in class customer centric solutions to our customers," said Jim Belanger, VP of Tunnel Sales for Clean Touch Formulas and MacNeil. "Although we manufacture very high quality solutions for a lot of what our customers need, we regularly collaborate with the industry's leading companies to help us provide the very best integrated solutions from their areas of expertise. The Echo is a perfect example of this type of collaboration. No one does chemical control better than HFI so we teamed up with them to create the Echo."
